Introduction

Our Home Learning Collection is designed to support pupils' learning through localised lockdowns and periods of self-isolation. The Collection helps schools who need high-quality resources build on their remote learning strategy, especially in these uncertain times. Unlike other learning resources, our modules are interactive, trackable and downloadable on mobile devices or available online through any web browser. Our mobile modules offer self-directed learning in short, frequent study periods through an engaging and media-rich platform making learning as interesting and engaging as possible.
